Steve,

Our national sales conference was established over a decade ago with the intent of keeping our people trained and inspired. It has been a good tool for our company to shake people out of the winter blues and get them ready for the spring selling season.

The decision to have you as our closing speaker at the conference this year was the right move. Your presentation, content, message and humor were delivered perfectly to our audience. Your ability to connect to them so quickly is a testament to your skill and how you have mastered it. The group was focused on your stories and took them to heart. Giving you a standing ovation at the end was their way of showing you just how much you were appreciated.

I can always tell the success of a closing speaker based on the comments over the week following the performance. The next week after your presentation, I was in Dayton, OH for another company function and people were still telling "Speakerman" stories of their own and making reference to your presentation. You really made an impact on these people, one that will last for a long time.

Thank you for joining our company and making it a trip to remember.

Sincerely,

Michael Bonacci
